COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE TRAINING CURRICULUM

Description:

The State Emergency Management Office (SEMO) and the NYS Citizen Corps Council encourage communities to train Community Emergency Response Teams (CERTs) so that they can perform essential lifesaving functions while waiting for professional responders following a disaster.

This Train-the-Trainer program will prepare the participants to conduct classroom and hands-on training for topics included in the basic CERT training. The emphasis of this course is on developing instructors' capabilities to effectively train others in both knowledge and skill based content. This includes classroom presentations, hands-on skill training and conducting field training and exercises.

All candidates will prepare and present two presentations on topics assigned by the instructors. Attendees should plan time to do some preparatory work after the first day of class to prepare a 10 minute presentation

Dress is 'business casual'. No jeans, please.

Course Objectives:

At the conclusion of this training, participants will be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the CERT Basic Training course.
2. Present an assigned portion of the course (teach-back).
3. Communicate the core values of the program.
4. Demonstrate classroom management techniques.
5. Demonstrate effective teaching techniques.
6. Model appropriate behavior as an instructor.

In addition to the overall course objectives listed above, each unit has specific objectives.

All participants will be required to successfully deliver two (2) presentations on assigned CERT topics.

Prerequisite:

All participants should be members of an existing community CERT team, or one being developed. Participants are also expected to be intimately familiar with the knowledge and skills covered in the basic CERT course.
